Re: The Story and Science of the Reading Brain

Date: August 4,2009

I'd like to inform you that the August 14th summer session 'The Story and Science of the Reading Brain' has been cancelled for this month (and postponed for a later day this year) due to lack of enrollment.

We are pleased that you're interested in coming to this session and will keep you posted regarding the new date. Dr. Wolf is considering early December as a possibility but has not confirmed yet.

Thank you for your understanding.
